A. J. C. Head Charges 200,000 Jews In Morocco Are In Terror, Many Jailed, Beaten

The American Jewish Congress and nine national affiliated organizations appealed to Morocco's Ambassador to the United States, Dr. El-Mehdi Ben Aboud, to help end what they described as "a campaign of persecution and terror against Morocco's 200,000 Jews which the government is apparently unable to control." In a letter to the Moroccan embassy in Washington, Dr. Joachim Prinz, national president of the American Jewish Congress, cited reports of mass arrests and torture of Jews in Fez, Meknes, Sefrou, and other cities. These arrests, the latter said, are the most recent events in a "mounting series of incidents which have thrown Moroccan Jewry into a state of panic."

The American Jewish Congress leader asked Dr. Ben Aboud to transmit to Rabat the "deep concern" of his own organization and nine affiliated bodies over the plight of Moroccan Jewry. He urged that three specific steps be taken promptly by the government in Rabat: 1. Cessation of arbitrary arrests, detention and torture of innocent Jewish men, women, and children. 2. Removal of present obstructions to legal emigration of Jews from Morocco. 3. Restoration of postal services to Israel, so that the 100,000 Moroccan Jews in Israel may resume contact with their families and friends in Morocco.

These actions, Dr. Prinz said, would effectively implement assurances by King Mohamed V and Crown Prince Moulay Hassan that "measures will be taken to restore the situation to normality." Only if the government acts swiftly and effectively to reverse the trend of recent events will Morocco avoid the perilous descent into the condition of a police state, with its midnight arrests, arbitrary detention, and sealing off of all contacts with and exits to the outside world," Dr. Prinz declared.

The American Jewish Congress letter to Ambassador Ben Aboud was accompanied by a seventeen-page memorandum describing the "deteriorating situation" of Moroccan Jewry. The memorandum attributed this deterioration to the fact that within the past year "Morocco has worked towards closer ties with the Arab League and towards the adoption of a neutralist foreign policy identical with Nasser's." The anti-Jewish campaign swung into high gear, it was noted, when the United Arab Republic leader visited Morocco in January.

According to the American Jewish Congress memorandum, the Moroccan government in its early days of independence in 1956 honored its commitments of complete liberty and equality for Morocco's Jewish community. The policy of free and unrestricted emigration to Israel, initiated under the French protectorate and which saw up to 3,000 Jews per month leave for Israel, was continued undisturbed.

In 1956, however, the Jewish emigration agency, Kadimah, was dissolved and in 1958 arrests began of Jews seeking to leave the country. The memorandum quoted Moroccan Information Minister Ahmed Alaoui as saying that Morocco could not permit her citizens to emigrate to Israel and settle on lands that rightfully belong to the Arabs of Palestine. The Moroccan official made his statement in blaming Zionist organizations for the tragedy on January 11 in which forty-two Jews attempting to emigrate clandestinely lost their lives in a shipwreck off the Moroccan coast.

The visit of U.A.R. President Nasser to Casablanca to attend the African summit conference in mid-January touched off a "new policy of harassment and brutality," the American Jewish Congress memorandum declared. During the first two weeks of January, 2,000 Jews were arrested on false charges, it was stated. "Both children and elderly Jews were among those arbitrarily jailed and beaten," the memo said.

Increasing economic and social restrictions against Moroccan Jews were reflected in the resignation on February 7 of David Azoulay, the Secretary of the Casablanca Jewish community, from the Casablanca Chamber of Commerce, it was noted. Mr. Azoulay's action was described as a protest against his ouster from the post of Secretary of the Chamber because of his Jewish ancestry.

A particularly distressing element in the anti-Jewish campaign has been the role of the Moroccan press, the memorandum said. The pro-government newspaper "Al Ahram" has demanded restoration of medieval ghetto laws and the imposition of a "special" or inferior status on Moroccan Jews, it was noted. Another daily, "Al Fajr," wrote recently that "Jewish organizations have become official centers for espionage and sabotage against the external and internal security of the state."

The American Jewish Congress memorandum concluded: "The fundamental human rights to which Morocco's Jews are entitled have been capriciously violated, despite solemn and reiterated pledges given to Moroccan leaders before and after the attainment of Moroccan independence. The embargo on emigration is the more difficult to endure in the face of economic privations, provocations, repressive actions taken against the Jews and the fostering of dangerous resentments among the Moslem masses by angry and rancurous statements of Moroccan leaders which are widely disseminated in the press.

"It is not too late for Morocco to reverse the course it has taken and revive the faith of the Jewish community and the good opinion of free men throughout the world

W.J.C. Leader Warns On Anti-Semitic Incidents At Time Of Eichmann Trial

Unless preventive action is taken in time there will be a new wave of anti-Semitic incidents within the next few months, Dr. Maurice L. Perlzweig, head of the international affairs department of the World Jewish Congress and its permanent representative at the U.N., has warned.

"Evidence is accumulating that leaders of international anti-Semitic organizations are preparing an outbreak of anti-Semitic manifestations in a number of countries, particularly in Latin America," Dr. Perlzweig said. The U.N., following a resolution adopted by its Human Rights Commission last April, has asked governments to report on the wave of anti-Semitic incidents which swept over the globe a year ago. Unfortunately only a small proportion of the governments of the more than forty countries affected had done so, and even those threw little light on the causes and organization of "this unprecedented international racist campaign."

"The explanation," Dr. Perlzweig stated, "is very simple. It is not lack of good will, but inability on the part of governments to cooperate with each other so long as they regard these manifestations as purely domestic matters."

Why had these outbreaks happened more or less simultaneously in more than forty countries? It was not a plausible answer to say that this was the work of juvenile delinquents simply because juvenile delinquents were caught. The great majority of those guilty of these acts were not caught, and it was reasonable to suppose that those who eluded the police were the experienced and hardened conspirators.

"The Nazi International, the hard core of which in a number of countries consists of war criminals who are fugitives from justice, has maintained an underground since the war whose function it is to protect these men and to keep the anti-Semitic pot boiling. Enough evidence has been uncovered by police and security forces in Europe and South America to put this beyond doubt," the WJC official said.

There is an urgent need for available evidence and material to be co-ordinated on an international scale and used as the basis for preventive action. The World Jewish Congress proposed to the United Nations that steps be taken to insure that the international criminal police organization (Interpol) should undertake this task.

"It is almost a year since the wave of swastika smearings, bombings, and acts of violence was set off on Christmas Eve by an incident in Cologne," Dr. Perlzweig said. "Though the number has decreased, incidents during the past two months have taken place in thirteen countries. The name of Eichmann has repeatedly appeared in the inscriptions. It would be the height of folly to overlook the danger that the forthcoming trial of this war criminal will be the occasion of new outbreaks of violence fomented and organized by his comrades in crime."

The World Jewish Congress has urged, in submissions to the United Nations, that member states should undertake to bar asylum for Nazi war criminals still at large. Dr. Maurice L. Perlzweig, director of the World Jewish Congress department of international affairs, and permanent representative at the United Nations, has submitted memoranda to the president of the General Assembly in connection with debate on the draft declaration of the right of asylum and the draft declaration on the freedom of information.

Dr. Perlzweig urged that the draft declaration on the right of asylum be amended to state clearly that persons guilty of crimes against humanity should not be granted sanctuary by any government.

While not referring directly to charges that Nazis who are fugitives from justice have found refuge in Middle Eastern and Latin American countries, Dr. Perlzweig stated that "some governments take the view that if the person suspected as guilty of such crimes (against humanity) acted in an official capacity, it was a 'political' crime and he is entitled to enjoy asylum in their country even after a well-founded extradition request is made." The World Jewish Congress leader contended that "this interpretation is contrary to the resolution of the General Assembly of February 13, 1946, concerning the surrender of war criminals" and did not con[illegible]m with the pertinent clause in

Worked Up To Be World's Top Foreign Securities Dealer

Carl Marks, of 710 Park Avenue, New York, founder and president of Carl Marks & Co., Inc., foreign securities broker at 20 Broad Street, died at Mount Sinai Hospital of a heart ailment. He was 62 years old. Mr. Marks' organization was recognized as the largest in its special field in the world, says the New York Times. His office had direct contact with many parts of the world and was used by banks and investment houses as a clearing house for foreign stocks and bonds and other financial papers.

The securities dealer was also widely known for his philanthropies. As president of the United Epilepsy Association he usually donated about $20,000 a year to the organization. He also contributed to the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies and other groups.

From September, 1939, to December 7, 1941, when Pearl Harbor was attacked, Mr. Marks had many telephone dealings with the German Government in regard to bonds, through which the Nazis, confident of winning the war in Europe, hoped some day to profit handsomely. All his transactions were known to the Federal Government, although the Germans were not aware of this.

Mr. Marks also bought up, at nominal rates, Russian Czarist bonds with a face value equivalent to $15,000,000, some of which he was able to sell. He had recently developed a plan for international trade independent of the gold standard, which has been under study by governmental bodies.

Mr. Marks was first employed by a newsstand in New York. He later worked in ammunition factories and on [illegible] after

German Nuclear Physicist Gets Five Years As Spy In Israel

The German nuclear physicist who worked on research contracts for the United States Air Force in Israel and was convicted of having transmitted security information to a foreign power, Prof. Kurt Sitte, 50 years old, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment after a secret trial.

The verdict by a panel of three judges was read at a closed session, says the New York Times. The public and newsmen were admitted later to hear the verdict and the pleas by the prosecution and defense before sentence was imposed.

From the plea by Jacob Salomon, defense counsel, it was indicated that the court had found that Professor Sitte had not been motivated by financial gain or ideological identification with the power he served. He apparently acted out of concern for members of his family living in that country. Censorship in Israel prohibits naming the country.

It has been reported that Professor Sitte attended an international conference of scientists in Prague, Czechoslovakia, shortly before his arrest. The Czech-born scientist is now a citizen of West Germany. He is an authority on cosmic radiation.

Professor Sitte came to Israel in 1954 to join the faculty of the Israel Institute of Technology in Haifa. At the time of his arrest on June 15 he was head of the physics department and deputy director of research. The research that the institute has been doing for the United States Air Force has not been secret, according to Asks Zionists And Jewish Agency To Aid Hebrew U.

An urgent appeal to the Zionist Organization to increase its assistance to the Hebrew University was made by the University's president, Prof. B. Mazar, in an address at the recent 25th World Zionist Congress, in Jerusalem. Citing the history and progress of the Hebrew University over the past thirty-five years, and highlighting the contribution it has made to Israel, world Jewry, and to humanity, Prof. Mazar pointed out that unfortunately the Zionist Movement, which undertook after the war of independence to play its part in strengthening and developing the University, had carried out its obligations only to a small extent.

Neither the Jewish Agency nor the Zionist Executive had given any help in the building of the new campus, while their financial aid constituted no more than 6.5% of the University's budget. The burden of maintaining and developing the University therefore fell on the Government and the Friends of the Hebrew University throughout the world. Prof. Mazar emphasized that the Hebrew University was not only the University of Israel but of the Jewish people as a whole.

In this connection he referred particularly to the work of the Institute of Jewish Studies, founded 36 years ago, which had become a world centre for the study of Judaica in all its aspects; the Institute of Contemporary Jewry set up with funds from the Government and Jewish Agency, for teaching and research into the social, intellectual, and spiritual forces that operate among the Jewish communities of the world; the joint research being carried out by the University and Yad Va-Shem in recent Jewish history, with special reference to the Nazi holocaust; the Ben-Zvi Institute for Research on the Jewish Communities in the Middle East; and the Jewish National and University Library, the central library of world Jewry, with its collections of books, manuscripts, periodicals and other invaluable material reflecting the life and culture of the Jewish people throughout the ages.

Prof. Mazar urged the Jewish Agency to take a more active part in supporting the University, which was faced with grave financial difficulties, and to increase its allocation to 10% of the University's budget. He also appealed for its greater participation in the building program, particularly for the completion of the new premises of the Library and the Medical School.

MONTREAL MARRIAGES

TOBENSTEIN-ISRAELOVITCH

The marriage of Miss Ina Israelovitch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Israelovitch, 5540 Woodbury Avenue, to Larry Tobenstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myer Tobenstein, 254 Laurier Avenue West, was solemnized on November 27, at half-past twelve o'clock, at Young Israel Synagogue, Rabbi Mendell Lewittes officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She was in a short gown of white, satin brocade, cut with a fitted bodice, styled with a round neckline, and long sleeves; and a full skirt. Her veil of tulle illusion was held in place by an organza crown; and she carried a prayer book adorned with white orchids. Miss Harriet Israelovitch was maid of honour for her sister. She wore a ballerina-length gown of mauve organza, having short sleeves, and a full skirt. She had a tiara of crystal beads and carried a cascade bouquet of mauve orchids. Hannah and Miriam Tobenstein, twin sisters of the groom, were junior bridesmaids. They were dressed alike in mauve organza frocks, with full skirts; they had matching crown headdresses; and carried nosegays of white carnations. Irwin Tobenstein was best man for his brother. The ushers were: Bernard Itovitch, Gerald Sirota, Gerald Adelman, David Feldstein, Ivan Abrams, Allan Nachfolger, Irwin Lehrer, Sydney Epstein, Hyman Cohen, and Stanley Lazar. Standards of white and mauve carnations, arranged with greenery, were the Synagogue flowers. Mrs. Israelovitch, mother of the bride, wore a gown of purple peau de soie, having a round neckline, and short sleeves, and a sheath skirt. Her hat was of matching colour. Mrs. Tobenstein, mother of the groom, was in a mauve satin sheath, made with a round neckline, and short sleeves. They had corsages of mauve orchids. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tobenstein spent their wedding trip in Miami Beach, Florida, the bride travelling in a white knitted suit, with a corsage of pink carnations. They have taken up residence at 2985 Bedford Road. Here for the marriage were: Mr. and Mrs. M. Chercover, of Port Arthur, Ont.; and Mrs. Max Barnett, of Atlantic City, N.J.

WOLKOWICZ-MAMANE

The marriage of Miss Simy Mamane, daughter of Mrs. Esther Mamane, 741 De l'Epee Avenue, formerly of Tangiers, North Africa, and the late B. Mamane, to Abram Wolkowicz, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. Wolkowicz, of Poland, took place at 1215 Van Horne Avenue, on February 12, at half-past six o'clock. Dr. Chaim N. Denburg, Rabbi, officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Abram Mamane. She wore a white peau de soie gown which had a tight-fitted, lace bodice, made with a high neckline; and long pointed sleeves; and full peau de soie skirt ending in a short train. Her veil of tulle illusion was draped to a crown of seed-pearl-beads; and she carried a prayer book with a white orchid. Mrs. Alksander Wolkowicz, sister-in-law of the groom, was maid of honour, wearing a lilac-coloured, organza gown, with full skirt. Her feathered hat was of that colour; and she carried a bouquet of white and mauve orchids. Marsha Wolkowicz, niece of the groom; and Anna Zavadaz, were junior bridesmaids. They were in white organza dresses, made with round necklines; short sleeves; and full skirts; and had bandeaux of pink roses in their hair; and carried nosegays of matching flowers. Greta Tajtelbaum, was flower girl. She wore a blue nylon party dress; with a bandeau of baby pink roses in her hair; and carried a nosegay of matching roses. Israel Wolkowicz was best man for his brother. Irving Wolkowicz, nephew of the groom, was page boy. A variety of spring flowers decorated the hall. Mrs. Esther Mamane, mother of the bride, wore a black silk sheath, made with short sleeves; and a pink straw hat. Mrs. Jacob Wolkowicz, sister-in-law of the groom, was in an olive-green, chiffon sheath, with a lace bodice which had short sleeves; and skirt with a fishtail back. She had a matching flowered hat. Their corsages were of white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Abram Wolkowicz spent their wedding trip in New York.

She was the mother of the late Michael Coplovitch. Funeral services took place from Paperman's. Dr. Chaim N. Denburg, Rabbi, officiated. Burial was at Tefereth Jerusalem Cemetery.

Judge Bernard Rose, 3806 Wilson Avenue, widower of Mrs. Rachel Goodman Rose, died at his home on Friday, January 27, at the age of seventy-six years. He is survived by a son, Alex Rose, of Ottawa, Ont.; two daughters: Mrs. Harold Davis (Selma), 4817 Draper Avenue, Montreal; Mrs. S. Christie (Audry), of Ottawa, Ont.; six grandchildren; two brothers, Theodore F., of Montreal; and James, of Palm Beach, Florida; and a sister, Mrs. Jack P. Leveo (Edythe), 4905 Cote St. Luc Road. Funeral services took place from Paperman's. Dr. Harry J. Stern, Rabbi, officiated. Burial was at Temple Emanu-El Cemetery. A judge of the Westmount Municipal Court since 1957, Judge Rose was an expert in the field of industrial relations, and was often called upon to settle disputes, or preside on arbitration boards, between unions and management. During World War II he was federal labor disputes inquiry commissioner. Judge Rose was a member of the Montreal Bar since 1910. During the war he received his labor appointment from the then federal Minister of Labor, and resigned in 1949 to resume on private practice as a labor relations consultant and counsel to organizations and industries. He wrote many letters to newspapers on the subject of labor disputes. Among the honors conferred upon him through the years were an honorary life membership in the Lord Reading Society of Montreal, in honor of many years given to legal practice and lengthy study of management-labor relations in Canada; and the presidency of the Senior Citizens Association of Canada. In 1960 he was honored by the Montreal Bar for fifty years of law practice. Judge Rose was awarded the Order of Officier d'Academie in 1927 by the French consul-general, Baron de Vitroles, for services to the French government. He was pre-deceased by his wife, the former Miss Rachel Goodman, in 1945. She had been awarded the silver medal of the Serbian Red Cross, by the consul-general of the Kingdom of Serbs, Croats, and Slovens (Jugoslavia). Judge Rose was born in London, England, and was brought to Canada at an early age. He graduated in law from Laval University, and in 1913 was awarded the Bachelor of Civil Law degree by the University of King's College, at Windsor, N.S. In 1918 he was awarded a doctorate in civil law by King's College. He was noted latterly for his strict enforcement of the law, and advocated stricter security measures in the licensing of fire-arms. It was his opinion that no one except a police constable or security guard should possess a revolver, and last September, during many hold-ups in Montreal, suggested that two soldiers be stationed in every bank branch.

• MIZRACHI WOMEN • Mrs. Hyman Bessin, of Ottawa, national membership chairman, and former president of the organization of Canada, who was the only delegate from it to the recent Zionist Congress in Jerusalem, told a press conference at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel about two Mizrachi projects in Israel: the new recreation and religious centre for young people at Bat Yam near Tel Aviv; and the Girls' Vocational High School at the Biblically-famous Beersheba, which is expected to be completed in the fall. Mizrachi is the branch of religious Zionism whose aim is "to spread among Jews the ideal of developing the Holy Land as a Jewish state traditionally, economically, politically, and spiritually; and to revive the Jewish nation to rehabilitate the Jewish land in the spirit of the Torah and the Jewish tradition." Mrs. Bessin said that pupils in the new Girls' Vocational High School at Beersheba, will be religious immigrants from North Africa whose schooling has been minimal, and they will be educated along the principles of schooling in the western democratic nations. Elementary school education is compulsory and free in Israel, but secondary and vocational education is not free since the new state cannot yet afford to operate these educational facilities. studying accounting, he got a job as a Wall Street bookkeeper.

He also did cable work for a finance company and made a special study of arbitrage — the buying of securities and bills of exchange in one market and selling them, simultaneously, in another for a higher price. Thus equipped, he became a commission broker, and this led to the foundation of the Marks company, in 1924.

Mr. Marks belonged to the Harmonie Club, the Fresh Meadow Country Club, Great Neck, L. I., and the United Club, Brooklyn, says the New York Times. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Edith Marks; a son, Edwin; a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Boas; his mother, Annie; a brother, Joseph, and six grandchildren.

the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

In a submission on the draft declaration on freedom of information, Dr. Perlzweig pointed out that "freedom of information is a basic human right which, like every human right, involves responsibilities." The World Jewish Congress suggested that the preamble to the declaration should be more explicit as regards the duties of newspapers, periodicals, and other publications. Dr. Perlzweig said that the recent swastika smearing epidemic demonstrated "once again the extent to which the press and pamphlets are used to incite hatred against racial and religious minorities." He contended that the United Nations, dedicated to promoting friendly relations between peoples and respect for human rights should state "unequivocally" that freedom of information also "carries the obligation to refrain from incitement against any nation or group."

Specifically, the World Jewish Congress suggested that the preamble to the draft declaration on freedom of information should urge newspapers and other publications to refrain "from the publication of items calculated to result in incitement to racial, religious, or other hatred or intolerance." The two memoranda were submitted by the World Jewish Congress which is a non-governmental organization with consultative status at the United Nations. Earlier in the year it supplied the United Nations with documentation on the international organization of Nazi movements.

COCKTAIL MUSIC . . .
There are a lot of musicians who sneer at "cocktail music" — but we're not among them. A background of soft, relaxing music makes a cocktail party a real success — we know, we've been to enough of them.
If you want a pianist who knows how to play this kind of music, you're reading about one right now.
On the other hand, you might want a fifteen-piece band, with singers and entertainers into the bargain. We can help you in this direction, too.
Versatility is our keynote — we can provide EXACTLY what you want, for every kind of party or meeting. Pick up the phone and ask us.

Eban Cites Problems In Need Of Scientific Intervention

The squalor, disease, and hunger which continues to rack the new nations of Africa and Asia, are a threat that cannot be met without the massive intervention of scientific knowledge, says Abba Eban, Israeli Minister of Education and Culture and president of the Weizmann Institute of Science, in the February issue of the "Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists," published in the United States. Reviewing the results of the International Conference on Science in the Advancement of New States held in Rehovoth, Israel, last summer, Mr. Eban lists the fields of particular interest to the emerging nations.

He gives first priority to health and nutrition, including a broad regional plan for the elimination of the tsetse fly, population control, and the use of algae and other substitute proteins as food; the "solar pool" and solar energy boilers, which will help to turn African and Asian sunshine to practical use; soil conservation; and the desalination of sea water.

Mr. Eban rates the Weizmann Institute very high in efforts to solve some of the vital problems which plague the new states today.

In his article, he points out that "the Weizmann Institute was established as a citadel of scientific enquiry dedicated to the progress of a young pioneering nation." Thus it stands in simultaneous kinship to the scientists and to the problems of the new states. Predicting that "strong currents of passion will sweep across the awakening continents, threatening to submerge liberties hardly won and deeply cherished," Mr. Eban sees great value in the holding of international conferences "consecrated to the pursuit of truth in the service of man's expanding welfare and enduring peace."

Petegorsky Chair To Be Dedicated At Yeshiva U.

A ceremony dedicating the David W. Petegorsky Chair in Political Science at Yeshiva University has been re-scheduled for March 12, at 8 p.m., at 526 West 187th Street, Manhattan. The dedication, which was to have taken place on February 5, was postponed due to the snow storm which struck the Eastern Seaboard at that time. The chair is being established in memory of Dr. Petegorsky, executive director of the American Jewish Congress, who was valedictorian of the class of 1935 at Yeshiva College. Dr. Samuel Belkin, president of Yeshiva University, will dedicate the chair at the ceremonies.

Rabbi Emanuel Rackman, leader of Congregation Shaaray Tefila, in Far Rockaway, N.Y., and an Associate Professor of Political Science at Yeshiva University, will give an evaluation of Dr. Petegorsky. Dr. Isaac Bacon, dean of Yeshiva College, the men's undergraduate school of liberal arts and sciences, will discuss plans for the new program in Political Science. Max J. Etra, chairman of the board of trustees of Yeshiva University, and Will Maslow, executive director of the American Jewish Congress, will speak.

Dr. Petegorsky, who was born and raised in Ottawa, Ontario, was an outstanding student at Yeshiva College where he earned the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1935. He was ordained at Yeshiva University's Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Theological Seminary in 1936, and received his doctorate degree in 1940 from the London School of Economics. After teaching at Antioch College, in Ohio, and holding a wartime information job with the Canadian government, Dr. Petegorsky was appointed executive director of the American Jewish Congress in 1945, at the age of thirty years. The next eleven years of his life were devoted to Jewish civic life and the cause of Zionism. He was forty-one at his death in 1956.

Rabbi Joseph Karasick, 470 West End Avenue, Manhattan, vice president of the Yeshiva College Alumni Association; and Rabbi Louis Bernstein, 7364 Springfield Boulevard, Bayside, president of the Association, and leader of Young Israel Congregation, Windsor Park, Bayside, campaigned for the establishment of the chair.

Founded by the late Dr. Bernard Revel, Yeshiva College opened in temporary quarters at the West Side Jewish Center, on 86th Street in Manhattan, in September, 1928. In February, 1929, the college moved to its present site at the Main Center, Amsterdam Avenue and 186th Street, Manhattan. In 1928, the college enrollment was 30 and the faculty and staff numbered 16. Enrollment today stands at 605, with a faculty and staff of 101.

Yeshiva University, America's oldest and largest university under Jewish auspices, comprises 17 schools and divisions located at six teaching centers in New York City. Five thousand young men and women are pursuing courses in Jewish studies and liberal arts and sciences, leading to undergraduate, graduate, and professional degrees and diplomas. The University's Main Center is located at Amsterdam Avenue and 186th Street, Manhattan.

sources at the United States Embassy in Tel Aviv.

Before he came to Israel, Professor Sitte worked at the Universities of Edinburgh and Manchester in Britain, and later at Syracuse University in New York. He was charged on seven counts and convicted on four. One charge carried a maximum penalty of life imprisonment. He was sentenced to five years' imprisonment on each count, the sentences to run concurrently from the day of his arrest.

The judgment noted that Professor Sitte's relations with agents of the foreign power had extended over a period of four and a half years.

The defense, in a plea for leniency, noted that Professor Sitte had helped Jewish victims of Nazism during World War II, first as a member of the underground and later as an inmate of a concentration camp, reports the New York Times. In passing sentence, the court said both considerations had been taken into account.

How do I save?

I'm a working girl, so saving isn't the easiest thing in the world. But I've found how to make it easier . . . I use the "Royal's" 2-Account Plan. I like the way it keeps my saving and my spending quite separate.

I use a Personal Chequing Account to pay bills. My Savings Account is strictly for saving. I'm really getting ahead, now I've stopped dipping into savings. They're building up, earn interest too . . . it works!

J.L.C. Rejects Zionist Congress Declarations

The Administrative Committee of the Jewish Labor Committee announced that it had rejected declarations made at the Zionist Congress in Jerusalem in session categorizing Jews abroad as having limited rights and those residing in Israel as having fuller rights. Declaring that it will continue to assist in constructive endeavors to aid Israel and help strengthen the Israeli labor movement, the J.L.C. said:

"The Jewish Labor Committee does not accept the division of the Jewish people into two kinds of Jews: those with full rights and those with limited rights. Various Jewish communities in different countries may find themselves in different positions because of circumstances and historic causes. But they all remain Jews, sons and daughters of their people.

"The J.L.C. on many occasions, has stressed, and stresses again, the significance and importance of every Jewish community. It underlines, however, that resettlement into Israel of individual or groups of Jews, is the affair of the community itself and of the conscience of the individual Jew himself. If Jews prefer to continue to reside in the countries they have either settled in, or were born in, that is their own affair and they do not become less worthwhile Jews because of their decision.

"It is axiomatic that where they live they must do their utmost to build their national existence and development; they must also help Jews in other countries wherever and whenever such help is needed. They must continue to strive for the further constructive development of Israel.

"The Jewish workers in the United States in whose name the Jewish Labor Committee acts and speaks, feel themselves to possess the full rights of American citizenship, with every Constitutional guarantee, with every safeguard that such citizenship demands and every sacrifice such citizenship commands. Therefore, the United States belongs to them as much as to any other groups who live and work in this country.

"The contributions which generations of Jews have made to the United States through efforts, both physical and intellectual; the contributions to the arts and sciences, to the stitch and the loom, have helped to make our country greater and stronger.

"We are reminded of the remarkable words of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt that America makes no distinction between those who arrived at our shores a little sooner or a little later or whether they came on the Mayflower. America is a land of immigrants of all races and religions, liberated from persecution and slavery. They came to the land of the free to rebuild together a new, and free life, for themselves and their posterity.

"We are convinced that a free, democratic, and creative America, is a safeguard not alone for all of its citizens regardless of race or religion, but is also a safeguard for all of its Jewish citizens. We express our conviction that a free, creative, democratic Jewish community in America is also a strong safeguard for Israel, for its normal development, for its labor movement; and for the country itself.

"With deep feelings of national responsibility, of brotherly solidarity, with faith in freedom and democracy, the Jewish masses have built their existence in America and have registered wonderful achievements. We will continue on this road. We will continue, as we have up to now, to strengthen the democratic ramparts of the United States, and will do all in our power in behalf of our national cultural development, for our language and culture, while, at the same time, we will help to strengthen our ties with our brothers and sisters in Israel."

The Jewish Labor Committee represents some 500,000 Jewish workers in the AFL-CIO the 70,000 families in the Workmen's Circle and is allied with the American and international free labor movement in human rights pursuits.

Congress Eastern Region Conference Discusses Jewish Position In Quebec Education

"Position Of Jews In The Educational System Of Quebec" was discussed at the day-long conference of the Canadian Jewish Congress Eastern Region held at the Windsor Hotel, in Montreal. Over 500 delegates from all major Jewish organizations in the Province of Quebec attended. The subject was presented in the form of briefs by Edmond Gordon, M. H. Myerson, and Joseph Cohen, Q.C. The chairman was Harold Lande, Q.C. Lavy Becker was the moderator.

The forthcoming Royal Commission on Education in the Province of Quebec, at which Congress plans to make representations on behalf of the Jewish community, prompted the review of the Jewish position within the present educational framework in the Province to make the Jewish community aware of its complex nature.

Edmond Gordon analysed the legal position pointing out that the "Jewish school question goes back to Confederation" and recalled provisions established in the British North America Act of 1867 protecting the rights of minority groups. He also noted that "Jewish pupils attend minority Protestant schools only as a matter of grace and that the Quebec Legislature has no right to pass any laws changing this situation or to force minority Protestant schools to admit Jewish students."

M. H. Myerson reported on "Government support for Private Schools, Pros and Cons" and referred to what he called the anomalous position in which the Jewish community now finds itself insofar as it has no representation on the Protestant School Board and yet pays tax contributions to that body.

Joseph Cohen, Q.C., who had been active for many years on various committees concerned with Jewish education in Quebec pointed out the advantages and disadvantages of petitioning for a separate Jewish School Commission and maintained that a strong case could be made for subventions from the Government or from the Protestant School Board for contributions to Jewish Day Schools.

The plenary session chairman was Harold Lande, Q.C. Samuel Bronfman, president of Congress, who addressed the delegates, recalled that "Canadian Jewish Congress was first organized in 1919 to give help to displaced persons of the first World War" and from these humble beginnings has grown into the "recognized representative institution of Canadian Jewry and acts on its behalf both at home and abroad." Mr. Bronfman stressed that "the main function of Congress is to act in matters affecting the status, rights, and welfare of Canadian Jewry; to stimulate its growth and well-being while safeguarding its interests and cultural heritage within the framework of the larger Canadian community."

Referring to Congress work abroad, Mr. Bronfman noted that CJC is a member of the World Jewish Congress and World Conference of Jewish Organizations. He stated that "Congress actively cooperates with other agencies, such as the Joint Distribution Committee now operating in some sixty-four lands, in rendering assistance and help to needy Jews throughout the world."

Joseph Fine, Q.C., national treasurer, who recently returned from Israel where he represented Congress as fraternal delegate at the World Zionist Congress in Jerusalem, and at meetings of the World Conference of Jewish Organizations and of the World Jewish Congress, spoke on the concept of 'klal Yisroel' which he said "pervades the history of the Jewish people and this solidarity is one of the focal reasons for its survival throughout centuries of dispersion and persecution. Be he a patriotic British subject," Mr. Fine continued, "or a citizen of the United States, Canada or France, or of any country in the remotest corner of the world, a Jew feels a deep responsibility for the welfare of his brethren in need, a deep concern for their security, though he shares ideological and political philosophies of the states to which he owes his allegiance." Saul Hayes, executive vice president of Congress, also spoke at this session, which had Monroe Abbey, Q.C., as chairman. Mr. Hayes reviewed the concept and philosophy of the Congress and noted problems facing the community. Rabbi Mendell Lewittes gave the invocation.

The public relations workshop, chaired by S. D. Cohen, discussed the recent outbursts of anti-Semitic demonstrations; relationship with ethnic groups in Canada; and combating discrimination. Discussion leaders were: Murray Spiegel, Rabbi Solomon Frank, Michael Rubinstein, Q.C.; and A. H. J. Zaitlin summarized. Ben Beutel chaired the Education Workshop. Discussion leaders were: Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat, Leon Kronitz, S. Dunsky; and Samuel Harvey summarized. This workshop covered "The Content of Jewish Education"; "Teaching Hebrew And Yiddish To Our Children"; and "Teachers For Our Schools." Community developments Workshop was chaired by B. J. Finestone. Rabbi Maurice Cohen spoke on "Impact Of Religious Affiliation On Community Structure"; Harvey Golden: "Using Leisure Time to Best Advantage"; Arthur Garmaise: "Programming For Adults."

There was also present a delegation from Quebec City headed by O. Miller. Among the guests at the Conference was Yaacov Botashansky, editor of one of the two Yiddish dailies in Buenos Aires; and M. M. Baig, Mayor of Moncton, N.B.
